Subject: proposed witness recording rule

To Whom It May Concern,

I am a former prosecutor for four years and now a criminal defense attorney. I am in favor of the proposed rule allowing defense attorneys to record witness interviews. As a former prosecutor, I have no idea why prosecutors, police officers, or victim's advocates would have any problem with this rule. The role of the criminal justice system is to find the truth. If witnesses are telling the truth, then they should have no problem being recorded. Ironically, I find that the most honest, experienced law enforcement officers I deal with have no objection to being recorded. It is those with less integrity who want to be able to change their story as needed. Thank you.
